

Behaviour & Expectations Policy

Both academically and socially we have the highest expectations of all our pupils. The Quaker ethos supports this, valuing each member of the community, recognising that everyone has something to offer. 'What to do at Leighton Park' published in the school calendar, sets out in detail our guidelines and regulations as well as offering recommendations and advice.

At Leighton Park we have our own system of rewards and sanctions (see policy on Rewards and Sanctions), recognising as we do that a framework is necessary if everyone is to be supported and allowed to develop in a secure community. In such an environment pupils can grow into balanced individuals, respecting and caring for others and recognising their responsibilities as members of the community both within school and in the wider community. Every classroom should reflect the spirit of the community, allowing development of positive individual qualities and giving pupils a sense of their own worth and of being valued by their peers and teachers.

If in exceptional circumstances, for the wellbeing of the whole class or discipline of individual pupils, it is necessary to send a pupil out of class, the following protocol should be followed:-

- The pupil should be sent to Reception, with a note of explanation and all their belongings, and the Deputy Head, Head of Sixth Form, Head of Fryer or Head of Middle School is to be informed as appropriate.
- Any such incident must be formally recorded in writing and a copy of this given to the Head of Department and the Deputy Head.

The guiding principle of the school's policy on behaviour and expectations is that all pupils are expected to act with common sense, honesty and good manners, and with consideration for other people's feelings and needs before their own. This last can sometimes be hard, but it is one of our most important aims.

We all make mistakes and act foolishly sometimes. In such circumstance, honesty, an apology, and a determination not to do the same thing again are important responses. Staff will always try to be helpful and even sanctions, when they have to be applied, are given in that spirit.

At Leighton Park we are committed to providing a safe and secure environment for all members of the community and we expect everyone to behave with consideration and respect for others, regard for public and personal safety and adherence to the law.
